Lesquin (France), July 23rd 2015 – Bigben Interactive is very pleased to reveal today the first screenshots of its new sports simulation video game “Handball 16” along with its video teaser.

Considering that the game is still under development, these images are not representative of the final product. Official licensed content in particular is not yet integrated; the screenshots therefore show two generic teams competing in a match.

It is the opportunity to peek at the different camera views, the tactic system and the jump shots.
