

Koh-Lanta : le Choc des Héros and Expeditie Robinson : Clash der helden, the French and Dutch versions of the official new Survivor Heroes game, announced on September 12th on Nintendo 3DS™

Lesquin (France), September 4th, 2014 – Bigben Interactive has announced the release of Koh-Lanta : le Choc des Héros and Expeditie Robinson : Clash der helden, the new official adaptations for Nintendo 3DS of the exotic Survivor universe. The player can freely explore a wild paradise island that has a day/night cycle, gathering all of the resources needed to improve the camp. Players have to demonstrate skill during new challenges that are faithful to the show, and, of course, weave alliances within their team to avoid elimination.

For the first time, the player can customize the team's avatars. The resource collection system is used to enable the player to construct buildings and cook food on the campfire. If the player doesn't carefully manage their resources, insects will be on the menu!

The most formidable challenge will, of course, be the famous posts, where elimination awaits the player who makes the slightest mistake. And finally at Tribal Council, those deemed unworthy by their peers will be voted out.
